Most challenged books in the U.S. (INSIDE COVER)

LIBRARY CLOSURE: JULY 4
All FVRL libraries, bookmobiles, and the operations center will be closed for Independence Day.
CELEBRATING DISABILITY PRIDE

Celebrate Disability Pride in July and throughout the year as we explore books, films, and other resources that amplify the voices and experiences of people with disabilities. We’ve created a collection of books on display in our libraries. You can place holds on them in our catalog. These and many other titles are also available in eBook and audiobook formats. Learn more at fvrl.org/disability-pride.

SUMMER AT YOUR LIBRARY

Summer at Your Library 2023 is full of fun and educational activities. In-person performances are back and we’re still offering online versions for extra convenience. Track your activities all summer for a chance to win in the grand prize drawing. Enjoy fun activities with the Library Legends, our own Summer at Your Library mascots. Find out more and sign up at fvrl.org. Or, visit your local library.

Find our full bookmobile schedule for Skamania and Klickitat Counties on pages 8-9.

A STORY FOR EVERYONE: BOOK CHALLENGES IN THE UNITED STATES

The American Library Association (ALA) documented 1,269 demands to censor library books and resources in 2022, the highest number of attempted book bans since ALA began compiling data about censorship in libraries more than 20 years ago. This nearly doubles the 729 book challenges reported in 2021. Of the record 2,571 unique titles targeted for censorship, the vast majority were written by or about members of the LGBTQ+ community and people of color. The 13 most challenged, and the reasons cited for the challenges, are listed on the ALA website, along with the top 100 banned books of each decade, at bit.ly/BookChallenges2022.

At FVRLibraries, we know that each item in our collection, all of our programs, and even our online resources don’t appeal to everyone. We offer information from all viewpoints to ensure that individuals and families have the freedom to make their own reading choices. We are honored to provide a diverse collection and set of services that offer A Story for EveryOne.
