A STORY FOR EVERYONE: MORE RESOURCES

This year we've been featuring various aspects of library book selection, collection maintenance, diversity in materials and resources, censorship issues, and current topics like book challenges and bans. We hope you've found it informative. You can find all of the information we've presented summarized on our website at fvrl.org/story-everyone.

Here are some additional resources you may find helpful:

COMMUNITY RESOURCE: DOMESTIC VIOLENCE RESOURCES

Domestic violence can happen to anyone, regardless of age, educational background, income level, religion, ethnicity, and sexual and gender identity. Domestic violence is abusive behavior used to gain power and control over an intimate partner. Abuse takes many forms; it can be physical, emotional, sexual, or financial. It is a learned behavior, and is not caused by anger, drugs or alcohol, or stress (YWCA Clark County).

If you or someone you know is experiencing domestic violence, here are some resources you can access for help.

- National Domestic Violence Hotline
1-800-799-7233
- YWCA Clark County
1-360-695-0501 or 1-800-695-0167
- Washington Gorge Action Programs
1-844-493-1709 [Skamania/Klickitat]
- Cowlitz Indian Tribe
1-360-397-8228 [Not a 24/7 crisis line]
- Emergency Support Shelter Longview
1-360-425-1176

Washington State Coalition Against Domestic Violence offers a wealth of resources at wscadv.org for those experiencing domestic violence and their family and friends. Not sure how to help someone you know? Their Friends & Family Guide can help.
