6. REPORTS

6.1 FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND HIGHLIGHTS – At 6:15 p.m. Catrina Galicz presented the following highlights for the month ending February 2025.

Statement of Cash: Cash balance at February 28 stands at just under $14.7 million, reflecting a decrease of approximately $3.5 million since the beginning of the year. This decline is anticipated, as the district typically draws down its fund balance during the first part of the year before receiving the bulk of property tax revenue—half expected in April and the remainder in October. It was noted that the 60-day reserve threshold is currently being met, although the 90-day reserve is not. This is consistent with expected seasonal cash flow patterns, and the balance is projected to normalize with the April tax receipts. Galitz emphasized there is no cause for concern at this time.

Statement of Revenue: All revenues through February are meeting or exceeding expectations year to date. Property taxes are just at 2% which is expected until April when the district gets a good portion of revenue property taxes coming in. Galitz pointed out that the “charges for services” line, which is non-resident barrower fees, is trending above budget projection. Also, investment interest is also trending above budget projection.

Statement of Expenses: Overall expenditures through February are aligning with expectations. Total spending is trending below the anticipated 17% expected by end-of February with actual expenditures at 13%. It was noted that expenditure levels are expected to increase mid-year as significant planned activities occur in the second and third quarters. The personnel budget remains slightly under expectations due to vacancies. Under the "Supplies" category, the technology line is currently at 33%, which reflects early-year costs associated with the purchase of BiblioCommons. Additionally, spending in the professional collection technology line is slightly above the 17–18% threshold due to annual subscription license payments. Under "Capital Outlay," Galitz highlighted continued expenditures related to the Woodland Library project. As of February, just under $6,000 has been paid, with reimbursement for these costs being received from the FVRL Foundation.

RECEIVE AND FILE FEBRUARY FINANCIAL STATEMENTS – At 6:20 p.m. Mary Williams made a motion to approve receiving and filing the February 2025 financial statements. Irina Kakorina seconded. Motion approved with 6 out of 7 votes.

6.2 WASHOUGAL BRANCH REPORT – At 6:21 p.m. the Chair invited Washougal Branch Manager Zoe Nash to present the Washougal Branch Report.

The Washougal branch currently operates six days a week (Monday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.) and is staffed by six employees, including the manager, with two full-time and four part-time staff members. In 2024, the branch circulated over 89,000 materials—an impressive figure for a library of its size—and welcomed 47,000 visitors. Library cardholder numbers have continued to grow steadily.

The branch offered 219 programs in 2024, with over 2,600 attendees. Programming includes weekly and monthly offerings such as storytime, STEM Lab, “Read to a Dog,” Tween Craft & Chat, Teen Hangout, and a tabletop role-playing game club. A major highlight was the Family Tech Petting Zoo, a grant-funded initiative featuring interactive tech toys for all ages. The cubelets were particularly popular, with children continuing to engage long after the program ended. Due its success the program will be offered again.

The 2024 Summer Reading Program also saw notable growth, with a 5% increase in participation over the previous year. The branch saw a marked increase in teen engagement through events such as tie-dye workshops and an escape room, the latter of which required an additional session due to high interest.

Adult programming remained robust as well, featuring master gardener sessions, a zine-making event with a poet laureate, an author talk by local figure The Blind Woodsman, and the consistently popular winter wreath-making workshop. The latter was capped due to limited space but continues to draw strong interest year after year.

Outreach activities included visits to local schools, teen book talks at Akin Triple Point, and participation in community events such as Recovery Café, Multicultural Night, WACA, and National Night Out. Partnerships were highlighted as a core strength of the branch, with Meals on Wheels delivering books to seniors and a new collaboration with the Washougal School District titled “Reading in Action.” This four-week program supports family literacy and critical thinking through group book discussions.

The branch continues to benefit from strong community support and partnerships with the City of Washougal, which provides additional meeting space. The Friends of the Library were recognized for their creativity and dedication in organizing fundraisers such as book sales, monthly dance programs, restaurant fundraisers, bingo, holiday bazaar sales, and the inaugural Pumpkin Bash event.

Nash closed noting the popularity and continued success of the branch’s seed library, which was initiated in 2018 in response to community interest. The program allows patrons to check out, grow, and return seeds, ensuring a sustainable, community-driven cycle of use and contribution.

6.3 ORGANIZATIONAL REPORT – At 6:30 p.m. as a precursor to the organizational report Giltrop took a moment to note that FVRL has thousands of programs every year with tens of thousands of people that come to those programs and enjoy so much of what the library does and connects them. Whether it's in library buildings or through outreach as Zoe highlighted. Giltrop added that every month the board hears from a small group of people about drag queen story hour, both for and against. The board and administration hears that. FVRL hasn't had a drag queen story hour since 2019. Giltrop stressed that as the district goes into a year where staff will be out in the community talking about all the wonderful things that the library does, she wishes that the library would have more of the public coming to speak to all the great things the library is doing. The library is launching a strategic planning effort which will include deep public engagement all around the 4,200 square mile district to share what they want from their library. What is the next chapter going to look like? That said Giltrop gave the floor to Alicia Gomori to present the organizational report:

- Cascade Park Community Library also has a popular seed library. The branch also hosts a “Seed to Super” program which has been impactful for the community. That program is done in partnership with the Clark County Food Bank who also contribute to replenishing the seed library.
- La Center Community Library partnered with 4-H to host a backyard chicken program. La Center 4-H students delivered an engaging and informative presentation with chickens for patrons to meet and pet.
- A district program focused on the history of women’s clubs and their role in public libraries was presented at a number of branches.
- Ridgefield Community Library’s homeschool hangout continues to be successful with 17 families connecting through learning and social time.
- Stevenson Community Library was featured in KGW and The Columbian on a story when a Daniel Steele novel was returned that was checked out in 1989. No fines were issued.
- Vancouver Mall Library participated in Read Across America Day at Orchards Elementary School engaging with about 270 students.
- Vancouver Community Library also received a write up in the Columbian about all the great spring break activities happening at the branch.
- Woodland Branch Manager Jennifer Hauan is leaving the district at the end of April. Hauan was instrumental in the planning, construction and opening of the new library in Woodland. An open

7. BUSINESS

7.1 Facilities and Finance Committee

A. Staff Report 2025-07 Levy Lid Lift Service Plan Options – At 6:36 p.m. the chair gave the floor to Jennifer Giltrop to present the Staff Report 2025-07 Levy Lid Lift Service Plan Options. Giltrop provided a brief reminder of the levy timeline and emphasizing key milestones. The board's goal for this meeting is to decide and vote on which of the pass options and which of the fail options the district should move forward with.

Morgan outlined for the board that they will first vote on the levy pass options. They will vote on option 1. If option one passes there will not be a vote on option 2. If option1 fails, the board would then vote on option 2. This process would also be repeated for the fail option.

Giltrop provided a brief overview of the options outlined if the levy passes and if the levy fails.

- Pass Option 1 - is to sustain current levels of service with the building of the new Washougal library in 2027.
- Pass Option 2 - is adding 13% of hours district wide, as well as building the Washougal Community Library, opening a new library in 2030 at a location to be determined, and opening a Clark County bookmobile.
- Fail Option 1- is significant upfront reductions, meaning 30% of open hours and staff will be cut in 2026. There will be no new libraries and the Vancouver Mall Library would close at the end of the lease in 2028. $500,000 of the budget will be allocated for future levy lid lifts to be put on the ballot.
- Fail Option 2 - is a minimal annual reduction which aligns the reduction to the 60-90 day fund balance required. The anticipation is a 15% cut instead of 30%. The other stipulations remain, no new buildings, the closure of the Vancouver Mall Library and $500,000 set aside annually until a lid lift is passed.

Morgan opened the floor to the board for questions.

Williams asked for clarification in fail option two, the requirement of the $500,000 in the budget to go back on the ballot. It is possible that the next levy could pass before having to make another cut?

Giltrop clarified that it is theoretically possible that could happen. Though the earliest that the levy could be back on the ballot again would be August of 2026. It is possible at that time that it could pass then. If it did not, cuts would have to be made again.

Coffey requested the age of the current bookmobiles. Giltrop responded that they are seven years old and they are kept in good working order.

B. Levy Lid Lift Service Options

At 6:48 p.m. Coffey moved to approve “pass” service option 1- service level maintained. Megan Dugan seconded. The motion failed with 3 of 7 votes.

At 6:49 p.m. Williams moved to approve “pass” service option 2 - increase in service hours. Kakorina seconded. The motion passed with 5 of 7 votes.

At 6:51 p.m. Williams moved to approve “fail” service option 1 – significant upfront reductions. Kakorina seconded. The motion passed with 5 of 7 votes.

C. Resolution 2025-06 Levy Lid Lift Service Plan– The chair informed the board that the resolution would include the results determined by the vote to include:

8. BOARD COMMENT - at 6:54 p.m. the Chair opened the floor for board comments. The chair started by thanking the board for their work in a situation where there are no easy answers. Morgan noted that this was one of the toughest decisions she has had to make.
- Olga Hodges apologized for the miscommunication due to poor connection.
  - Williams agreed that this has been very hard but thanked Jennifer for her hard work. She noted that though the reduction hurt the most, she felt like it helps the library get back faster to where everyone wants it to be.
  - Coffey thanked Jennifer for all the work she has been doing and the work ahead.
9. Setting for next Regular meeting; Monday, May 19, 6:00 p.m. at Stevenson Community Library.
10. ADJOURNMENT – At 6:55 p.m. Coffey made a motion to adjourn. Kakorina seconded and the meeting was adjourned at 6:56 p.m.

Battle Ground Community Library

- Battle Ground staff attended Captain Strong Primary's Open House, Prairie High School Resource Fair, and hosted a bird walk with the Audubon Society.
- The Battle Ground Manager presented to both the Lewis River Rotary and the Battle Ground Rotary. The Lewis River Rotary also presented the manager with a check for their annual children's book fund donation.
- 28 students, teachers, and parents visited from Battle Ground's EOCF preschool. They got library cards and many students checked out their first books.
- A volunteer with the Futures program through Battle Ground School District helps out every Monday. One Monday she told staff that she had a hard weekend and kept thinking about how it would get better on Monday because she got to help at her favorite place - the library. Staff love that they give people something to look forward to when they are struggling.
- Battle Ground Staff hosted a DIY Rainbow Rug program that was very well received.
- Two patrons also approached the desk with their passport and said that they thought the Library Passport idea was fabulous and that they were so excited to visit all the libraries.

Cascade Park Community Library

- School outreach is picking up. The library is attending and scheduling more parent family night events.
- Kids Yoga was a huge hit in April. Parents asked after the program if we do it regularly and when the next session is. Libs is working with the presenter on another program for winter 2026.
- Touchmark Senior Living is no longer able to bring residents to the library. Staff spoke with one of the residents and told them about the library's Read, Return, Repeat program. The Resident Activities leader at Touchmark was very excited that the library offered such a program and staff arranged to add the residence to the district's outreach locations.
- AARP finished up the tax season and reported seeing more people in 2025 than they saw last year. The seniors who use this program are always very appreciative to have this service available to them and remark on how helpful this is.
- The Friends hosted an afternoon Mocktail party as an appreciation for the volunteers. It was followed by the regular monthly meeting. Thank you for your support and continued energy and time volunteering to help the library be successful.
- One of the staff saw this post from a happy patron in a Facebook Group about the library's display for Earth Day. It's nice to hear patrons are finding value and appreciating what the library has to offer.

I'm so impressed with our little Cascade Park Community Library...

They do such a great job of hosting valuable events, creating themed displays that are relevant and engaging, and creating peaceful safe spaces to come enjoy time including in the outdoor courtyard...

Grateful for this resource!

And feeling pleased I chose to get up and out this morning, and come snag some sun while it was out too 🤗🙌🙏

Goldendale Community Library

- Saturday staff arrived to find that the Easter bunny had visited - there were eggs hidden all over the library lawn and garden space. Inside were mini duck prizes (and an invite to visit the new reopening of the Field of Stars Boutique with QR code to their website). The eggs quickly disappeared by the end of the day.
- The Community Craft resulted in a cute display of fairy houses, which staff were also able to use to advertise other similar upcoming programs.
- The Gorge Native American Collaborative hosted their first strategic planning session that the Branch Manager was able to attend and provide input on with a number of other organizations in the Gorge on both sides of the river.
- The Branch Manager provided a presentation on online resources to Washington Gorge Action Programs (WAGAP) staff, with the intention of recommending resources to their clients. Many were unaware of a number of resources available with a library account and expressed interest in trying some out for themselves.
- Thanks to a generous donation in memory of one of Goldendale's primary school teachers, Mrs. Neel, The Goldendale Library was able to partner with the Goldendale Grange and host an OMSI Science Festival for the primary school classes, as well as open to the public for the last hour of the event. A total of 428 attendees attended and interacted with science and math brain teasers and puzzles throughout the day.
- There were a number of suicide awareness and prevention presentations in Klickitat County throughout the month of April, including at the Goldendale Library. The program was in partnership with the Portland VA, Coalition for Preventing Abuse in Klickitat County, Our Klickitat, the Goldendale Library, and Klickitat Valley Health.
- Homeschool Hangout group were able to test out a couple of the Financial Literacy games—thanks to Three Creeks for loaning them out. They had a lot of fun and learned some easy tips on spending and saving money.

- A Community Planting Day was hosted as the monthly Community Event in partnership with CPAKC, WAGAP, and the local Parks & Recreation. About 75 community members visited to get a pot for starting a vegetable, flower, or herb garden, followed by barbecued hot dogs cooked by the pool lifeguards.
- The Goldendale High School coordinated a Reality Fair for high school seniors with the intention of teaching about financial literacy. In a call for volunteers, the Branch Manager was able to participate. The event was organized by Washington State Employees Credit Union, students had to visit each station where volunteers tried to sell them the most expensive items. Afterward, students had to balance their budget, returning to different stations to adjust their choices. Many students were surprised at how expensive some choices could be.
- The Klickitat County Commissioners read the Proclamation to celebrate National Volunteer week, with the Volunteer Coordinator visiting for the occasion.

Klickitat County Bookmobile

- A small but excited group attended the latest Saturday Bookmobile, Stortime, and Craft event in Georgeville. They are waiting with anticipation to watch their chia pets grow. They also got to take some bean and pea seeds home to plant. One said they wanted to grow all the beans so they could feed everyone. They were just as excited to check out books after the craft and so proud of themselves for bringing their books back. The Georgeville Community Center donated its space for this event.

La Center Community Library

- La Center hosted a volunteer-led Crochet series this month with folks learning how to crochet and use the granny square stitch to create a book cover or mini purse.
- The volunteer-led ceramics program this month painted some colorful Easter eggs.
- The SLAs created some financial literacy programming this month featuring a Piggy Bank Storytime where kids learned to identify various currencies, talked about saving, and created their own piggy banks. For the older kids, the SLAs used some donated stuffed animals to create a Pet Cents adoption agency where kids chose an animal & were given a budget to then use to make pet ownership decisions - food, toys, vet visits. The kids loved it and enjoyed getting to keep their new “pets.”
- The library used the newly remodeled La Center Community Center for the Fairy Garden program this month. The Friends of the Library also joined us with their plant-a-seed-grow-a-reader event. Families were able to build a small fairy garden and kids were also planting seed cups and able to choose a free children’s book from the Friends of the Library to encourage early literacy and the importance of having books in the home.
- This month the library put together 100 more Welcome Basket items containing library card applications, library information, Friends of the La Center Library brochures, bookmarks, and library magnets. These will be distributed by La Center United to all new home owners in La Center as part of their welcome baskets.
- iQ Credit Union brought their Teen Reality Fair to La Center this month. Teens spun a wheel to decide their career and monthly income then with that information they were asked to budget their expenses for the month. They picked apartments, chose cars (with payments & insurance covered of course), food, savings, and with the occasional random wildcard expense thrown in to keep it real (car breaks down, hospital bill, birthday celebrations!). The program was well received by those who attended.

Ridgefield Community Library

- A Senior Library Assistant and the Branch Manager went to View Ridge Middle School for the Spring Showcase to promote library services and programs. The supplies staff provided to make hoop gliders and also Cubelets was a hit with the students!
- The library tabled at the YMCA's Healthy Kids Day on April 26 at Davis Park, across the street from the library, to promote library services and programs. The table offered games from the Mario Kart Minigames program (think bowling for humans) and set up velcro ax throwing. A YMCA volunteer set up a vastly sophisticated 3D printer in the community room. Ridgefield LIONS did vision testing. This was a fun and busy event!
- Both Senior Library Assistants have started visiting seven of the kindergarten classes at Union Ridge Elementary to read to the students.
- Staff also visited Ridgefield School District's Early Learning Center to share stories and gave students a take-home craft.
- A speaker from Master Gardeners presented on the benefits of raised bed gardening to a full room of attendees on April 19.
- The Horror Book Discussion Group met April 2nd and discussed Horrorstor by Grady Hendrix. Staff consistently hear from members of the Friends of Ridgefield Community Library Board how much they enjoy this program and how well it is run.
- At Build It! In April participants made zoetropes, a pre-film animation device.
- The library hosted a Super Smash Brothers program on April 26. The great thing was to see two families from Healthy Kids Day come for this program.

- Eighteen teachers are signed up to bring classes to the library from Union Ridge Elementary for Summer At Your Library promotion (On top of the seven classes of 3rd graders coming from South Ridge Elementary).

Stevenson & North Bonneville Community Libraries

- New electric vehicle charging stations are online, and available for the public to use. Multiple community organizations supported the project including the Port of Skamania, Skamania County Commissioners, Skamania County Chamber of Commerce, Stevenson Downtown Association, and multiple downtown businesses.

- Wind River Middle School is a title 1 school in Carson which does not have its own school library. This school may close for next school year.

- Recovery Cafe is a non-profit that supports recovery of those who have been impacted by events of homelessness, struggles with addiction and mental health challenges. It is hosted at the United Methodist church in Stevenson. Staff provide information about library services and are often a reentry point for people to library services. Library account signups and renewal of lost access is a primary focus.
- Rock Cove Assisted Living is the only senior living facility in Skamania County. Staff visit twice a month to check out books to residents and restock their Read Return Repeat collection.
- Goodwill has continued hosting English as a Second Language classes every Friday. It was off to a slow start, but now has some regular students.
- Teen programming has expanded with a new Teen Hangout every Tuesday evening. Activities include crafts, movie nights, and homework help. The branch is planning additional outreach to the high school and new teen center.
- The Grange's Community Resiliency series continued with a Plant and Seed Swap event which drew in 58 community members.

Vancouver Mall Community Library

- Staff presented a program based on the Oregon Trail video game. Participants rolled extra-large dice to determine how many squares they moved, had to purchase supplies for their trips, and could die if they did not have enough resources. No matter the outcome, the participants got to make a button with the outcome of their trip, whether they survived and reached Oregon or died of some horrible disease. Outreach and Programming is working on converting the program into a traveling program for other branches in the district.
- The branch manager tabled at Orchards Elementary’s “Ollie-Palooza” event. The event has performances from the school’s choir, band, and games. The library gave out books and FVRL passports to over 350 people.
- Staff moderated an informative session on Cybersecurity and AI Safety presented by the Washington State Attorney General’s office. It was part of the consumer awareness programs across the district.
- The library held a drop-in board game program to help give people something to do during spring break. About a dozen gamers were offered around the branch that people could play. Some people took the opportunity to learn new games, while others used it as a chance to play old favorites.

Three Creeks Community Library

- Ren Locus provided VITA tax help at the library during the tax season and had an incredibly busy season. From January 31st - April 12th, they helped 1,319 patrons and gave 1,285 volunteer hours.
- After tax season ended, staff brought back the popular Play to Learn series and had many children improve their early literacy skills through play while caregivers were able to connect with each other:

- To celebrate National Poetry Month, staff members printed and rolled poems for patrons to take and have a “poem in your pocket.” 210 poems were given away during the month

National Poetry Month

- During Spring break, staff hosted three financial literacy for children events with the American Library Association’s Thinking Money for kids grant. Children learned about budgeting, saving vs. spending, and managing a business. These lessons were taught through a variety of activities and games that engaged the participants.
- This month’s homeschool hangout featured poetry and the written word. Students created their own poetry, flip books and mad libs in addition to playing word games and going on a cursive scavenger hunt.
- Three Creeks offered a tween hangout with games and pizza. The tweens enjoyed the activities and connecting with one another.
- A variety of adult programs included instructions on how to grow fruit trees in your backyard, an introduction to Artificial Intelligence, and a Silent Reading Party.
- A local family practice physician told staff that he includes the library in his after-visit summaries with children, encouraging parents to take their children to the library and get them a library card. He even includes a link to the FVRL website for online card registration.

- Staff went to 8 outreach events in the community to celebrate FVRL's 75th birthday and promote library services. During ReadCon at Thomas Jefferson Middle School, staff received a special visitor from a galaxy far, far away.

Vancouver Community Library

- April's monthly trip to the Central Park ECEAP program was the best visit all year. Kids who started the year barely interested in storytime have reached the point where they not only participate in the songs and engage with the story, but request extra repetitions of their favorite songs. A class that has struggled with focus all year had a blast helping staff shush the various noises threatening a baby's nap in Shhh! The Baby's Asleep by JaNay Brown-Wood. Teachers in the toddler/baby class told the librarian that one little boy has been singing "Roll Roll Sugar Baby" without prompting all month and asked if they could film the librarian singing the song with the group to show his parents why he's been singing it. It's incredibly gratifying to hear about the impact of library visits from the teachers and see the progress kids make throughout the year as they get familiar with the format of storytime and the songs sung together.
- Staff visited both the Arnada and DuBois Park Neighborhood Associations to highlight library services and share about FVRL's 75th anniversary.
- Youth Services staff attended a Cultural Fable & Fairy Tale themed Family night at Roosevelt Elementary informing about 45 families about library resources.

- Local authors John and Anni Furniss visited to talk about mental health awareness, disability advocacy, art, and their new book, The Blind Woodsman to over 30 attendees. John and Anni love spreading awareness about using art as a tool to help with mental and physical challenges.
- April is National Poetry Month. The Library had lots of passive programs celebrating and highlighting poetry all month long and the celebration culminated with a Poetry Open Mic on April 26th. First time readers and well-seasoned poets shared original works and old favorites alike. Vancouver's current Poet Laureate, Susan Dingle, graciously emceed the event, shared some of her work, and presented the Vancouver Community Library with Proclamations of April being Poetry Month made by Mayor Anne McEnerny-Ogle. Previous Poet Laureates Christopher Luna and Armin Tolentino were also in attendance and shared original works.

Poetry Open Mic Event

- In conjunction with Earth Day on April 22nd, the library hosted the Earth Portrait Project - portraits of community members holding the earth with their commitment to earth friendly actions - all month long on the 1st and 3rd floors and received a thank you note from the artist/creator of the project.
- Just a few days into the new month a patron stopped to read a picture book on display in the Atrium for Arab American Heritage Month. They finished the book and were placing it back when the manager caught their eye with a smile and a hello. They broke into a big grin and said "Thank you for having this here!" gesturing at the display. Displays highlighting people from all over the community engage and help patrons feel welcome in the Library.

- Kids Create (experiential art program for kids ages 5-12) continues to be a place for art exploration for kids, tweens and their caregivers, but also a place where community grows. Families are connecting with each other - they run to hug and greet one another each week. To foster this community, the library has been experimenting with a passive collaborative project in a corner of the room that anyone can work on during the session. The current project is called “Eggland” inspired by Artbar’s Egg Carton Village where we provide recycled and found materials. It has been such a pleasure to watch each week as the kids invent stories for the different parts of Eggland. There is “Shiny Town” and “Boring Brown Town” that succumbed to the rainbow raiders in a ferocious battle. Each week it is amazing to watch their confidence grow in immediately diving into the project of the week. It has also been incredible to see younger siblings suddenly - in what feels overnight - display skills that they haven’t shown before. Scissors are being used in the correct direction! Paint brushes are being rinsed between uses! They clearly communicate their vision and want you to take an interest in what they have created. Staff heard over and over how important this program is.
- The first in a 4-part introductory Tai Chi series in partnership with The Taoist Tai Chi Society brought in 10 patrons to learn about this ancient practice.
- Adventures in Art explored how to create zines this month. A mixture of returning and new participants learned what zines are, how they are formatted, and a little about the zine swapping community at large. Each participant went home with their very own zine, and got to make several copies; some of which were swapped with others. Several copies were added to the growing zine library in the Teen room.

Washougal Community Library

- Washougal Library partnered with the Washougal School District Family Resource Center for a 4 week Reading in Action Program. The program brings together 10-15 families for dinner, a book discussion, and activity period for four consecutive weeks. Each week, 1 book is read aloud by library staff. Then staff lead a book discussion with the children and parents. The discussion covers a larger topic using the books as examples and then the families participate in a related activity meant to further engage families together on the topic and encourage hands-on, cooperative participation.

Reading in Action

Families take home a different book on a similar topic, and are encouraged to read it aloud and discuss it as a family. Part of the first weeks' instruction was how to ask open-ended questions and their benefit in literacy education. This take-home piece gives families a chance to practice what library staff have been demonstrating each week, and make connections between the two titles. In order to remove possible barriers to participation, the entire family is invited to attend, and dinner and childcare for younger siblings is provided each week. Each week, children also get to select a book to keep for their home library. The format of the program is intended to build literacy skills for all by engaging the whole family together.

The first week staff read Rosie Revere Engineer, discussed inspiration and perseverance and then worked together to build structures that could survive an earthquake. The second week the group read Niko Draws a Feeling. The families looked at various art images and talked about what feelings came to mind when looking at the art pieces and how colors, images, and shapes can affect the "feeling" of an art piece. Then the group worked on their own art pieces and shared about them. The kids and parents have been really engaged in the discussions and activities.

White Salmon Valley Community Library

- Wild About Nature was the library's big event in April. Artist and organizer Joy Markgraf put together a beautiful art exhibit with paintings of animals on cherry bark. Joy also had exhibits in the display cases in the library, including a beaver pelt, handwoven baskets, and fire equipment, to illustrate each topic. The Columbia Gorge newspaper featured an article about Joy and the Wild About Nature Series.
- Every Friday in April the library had two presenters speaking about a different topic. The events were well attended, with the falconry event drawing over 100 people to Grange Hall. Attendees were able to put on a leather glove and hold one of the falcons (named Raven, pictured).
- April 4 - Beneficial Fire; Lichens
- April 11 - Falconry and Bird Abatement
- April 18 - Ethnobotany of Camas Places; Beavers and the Landscape
- April 25 - Natural History of Madagascar; 50 Peaks Project
- On April 15th, representatives from the Klickitat County Health Department and the Klickitat County Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program presented a 2 hour workshop on the benefits and techniques of breastfeeding infants. Three expectant mothers and an attendee planning to become a lactation specialist participated. The library also did a small presentation introducing Baby Storytime.
- Regular storytimes, Build It, and Play to Learn programs are always well attended and parents share how much they enjoy coming to the library!
- On April 9, the library participated in Parent Night at Columbia High School. Although not many families attended, the library connected with the teachers and the superintendent, as well as community partners like Washington Gorge Action Partners (WAGAP).

Woodland Community Library

- April brought all the beautiful tulips into full bloom. It was glorious and the community was impressed with the amazing colors made possible by the donation from Holland American Gardens and the Friends of the library who planted them last fall. The peak blooming time coincided with the “Woodland Blooms” program held on Saturday, April 19. Patrons were introduced to the iPad augmented reality app built by WSUV Digital Media Seniors, which explains and brings sound to the ceiling sculpture in the children’s area. The library also offered Flower Seed Bomb making and a demonstration and instruction on creating paper flowers.
- Tech Petting Zoo was enjoyed by several families. The kids learned some basics and enjoyed creating “robots” and giving them commands.

- The Master Gardener Series this month was “Seed Saving”. The program had a good turnout with about 15 people participating
- Financial Education for Kids presented by Fibre Federal Credit Union. They are providing three weekly programs in April for kids. The activities include games, crafts, and instruction on good money management skills.
- Congratulations to the Friends of Woodland Community Library! They were awarded the Washington Library Association’s Volunteer Merit Award. The Woodland Community Library and the whole FVRL district are so proud of all their efforts toward fundraising and community support of the Woodland Community Library. Four Friends members attended the awards ceremony in Tacoma during the WLA conference.

Yacolt Express Library

- The Wednesday and Friday Kids Create program continues to be a big hit and this month there were over 200 participants. Families enjoyed making umbrellas, colorful birds, mice, and fuzzy chicks.
- On April 18th, the Library Operations Supervisor was invited to participate as a guest reader at the Yacolt Primary School for School Library Month and read a story to three classrooms. It was a great opportunity to visit with the children in the community and tell them a little bit about the Yacolt Library.

Operations Center

- Staff participated in the PUD Home and Garden Fair on April 26th and 27th. Staff proactively engaged with more than 500 people, registering nearly 50 new accounts. Information was shared about upcoming Master Gardener programs, the FVRL seed libraries, distributed 75th Anniversary passports, and distributed the Levy fact sheets developed by the Communications and Marketing Division.
- In partnership with the City of Vancouver and Clark County Childrens' Justice Center the district offered Child Abuse Prevention Month virtual programs in April. These were focused on supporting and encouraging on-line safety for parents and caregivers. Booklists and resource guides were shared district wide.
- Cybersecurity 101 Training programs were finalized with Hewlett Packard. This program is in support of a $8,700 dollar gift to the FVRL Foundation focused on digital literacy and equity. This gift is an outcome of the library's years-long volunteer program relationship with HP.
- The Outreach and Community Partnerships hosted a parent education workshop on early literacy development for parents at St. Andrew's Preschool.
- A new IT Manager joined the District in April. Devon Laing will take on supervision of operational staff, manage several systems including the helpdesk ticket system, the inventory system, and the knowledgebase system, and assist with budgeting and planning.
- Volunteer Services coordinated the upcoming Community Resource Fair, to be held at Cascade Park on May 7. This is in partnership with WorkSource and will provide direct access to the services of 21 non-profits for community members.
- Communications & Marketing (CMD) launched FVRL's 75th Anniversary Passport Program in April to promote engagement with library services and branch locations across the district. The passport encourages patrons of all ages to explore new spaces, attend programs, and rediscover the breadth of offerings available at FVRLibraries. priority as ransomware and other cyber attacks have threatened libraries' ability to serve their communities around the world.

- IT continues to deploy new computers and laptops, ensuring staff have up-to-date systems that allow them to serve the public efficiently and securely. Other work included upgrades to the server that manages access to several of our buildings, repair work on the public address system at the Vancouver Library, and assisting in an upgrade to the Clark/Vancouver Television facilities at the Vancouver Community Library.

Danielle Steel novel turned up in Stevenson
Community Library

By DONG FLANAGAN
The Columbian

FVRLibraries marked its 50th anniversary in unexpected style last month in a bit of literary pop-up in the form of a book that for more than three decades, an unidentified woman returned a copy of Danielle Steel's 1987 romance novel "Zoya" to the Stevenson Community Library.

"It is an extraordinary story," said Alder. "It's a book that has been in our collection since 1987, and it's been in our collection since 1987."

The woman told library employees that she found the book while cleaning a friend's house, Alder said.

The book was returned in good condition, and David West, manager of the Stevenson Community Library, said it was a "great find."
