Dear Ms. Bosel:

Thank you for contacting me and for your worthy public service leading the Friends of the Woodland Community Library. Libraries are one of our state's most valuable resources, providing access to knowledge, technology, art, and meeting spaces for the public at large. Libraries play a vital role not only as centers of learning, but also as resources for professional development and community engagement.

Thank you for sharing information about the diverse array of public benefits your library's programs provide. Please share with any donors that you think would be interested that I strongly support your fundraising drive and wish you success.

Sincerely,

Peter Goldmark
Commissioner of Public Lands
