Joshua Klement Haikus
By Joshua Klement

Quadrilateral
What an interesting word
But strangely simple

Kombucha: not good
Good for liver but tastes bad
And has many clumps

French people eat snails
Ultra-super disgusting
What about slime?

Haikus... what’s the point
I don’t get it. They sound good
But they still don’t rhyme

Garage sales are fun
You get to get lots of junk
Or sell lots of junk

Why must I learn French?
The feeling is mutual
We hate each other

What's a limerick?
I don’t know and I don’t care
I just make haikus

Caziques is a word
A dude used it for scrabble
He got lots of points

McLaren Senna
That is a really fast car
I wish I had one

Wireless headphones
Why do I write about them?
I really don’t know
Macadamia
Those Macs’ are really nutty
And exotic

Qwertyuiop
Top letters on a keyboard
My topics are weird

I choose weird topics
Call the psychiatrist please
It is desperate

The dictionary
That is one really big book
Now let’s thank Webster

Titanic was sad
A whole lot of people died
Thanks, dum-dum captain

Liver biopsy
Then watch a lot of movies
Then be bored at home

My day simplified
Then put into a haiku
Pretty boring day

Salads with croutons
Not like the salads I eat
Ours is just lettuce

You want great music?
Beethoven’s fifth symphony
You got great music

Strawberries are good
Making me miss the summer
The days of no school

Bacon is quite good
All fatty and unhealthy
But still very good
Oranges are good
They are the color orange
They make nice juice, too
